If there was one piece of advice I have for people today to experience more joy in life, it is to [..a..] or going on pre-planned trips, I mean making the journey out [..b..] you've never gone before with an open schedule, to let life show you what [..c..] where waiting for you that you couldn't have ever [..d..] before. Travelling is wonderful in many ways. It captures us with a sense of wanderlust and has us [..e..] for more destinations to visit, cultures to experiences, [..f..] to eat, and people to meet.
